“伦理文化建构的东西方视阈” 国际学术研讨会回执

Invitation to an International Conference

Building An Ethical Culture East and West

Moral Culture Research Institute, Hunan Normal University, Changsha, P.R. China

July 20-21, 2019

Theme

The East and the West have different ethical cultures, but the differences are relative, for the two kinds of ethical cultures can be integrated to a certain degree. In the era of globalization, the East and the West have more chances to learn from each other, especially in the field of ethical culture. Is it possible to build an ethical culture reflecting both eastern and western perspectives? It may turn out to be difficult; however, it is a goal deserving our expectation. We can at least make efforts to contribute our opinions, insights and experience to fulfill the goal. Living in one world, we do have common concerns about the development of our community and the future of humanity; therefore, we may try to cultivate common moral values and build an ethical culture to reflect both eastern and western perspectives.

The following will be the themes of the conference:

1. Eastern and Western ethical traditions
2. Chinese ethics and Chinese ethical culture
3. Western ethics and Western ethical culture
4. Foundations for ethical cultures
5. Communications of international ethical cultures
6. Moral responsibility in social life
7. The idea of building a community of common destiny
